BUSINESS - GOLF - NETWORK

GOLF & NETWORK

All over the world, companies use the fascinating universe of golf to create results both internally and externally. In a competitive labor market, where competition for both talent and business is greater than ever, motivation and retention often become top priorities in the individual company.

In this connection, the sport of golf offers unique opportunities to network with colleagues, customers and stakeholders, in a relaxed environment. An environment where you share joy, frustration, learning and results together.

Companies that include golf in their brand strategy will achieve an exclusive communication platform, strengthened working relationships, a strength both the internal culture and the close customer relationships.

GREAT NORTHERN

COMPANY DAY

A Company Day at Great Northern is your opportunity to invite your colleagues, network or customers, for an unforgettable experience, at one of Europe's most exclusive and renowned golf courses.

Discover how unique golfing experiences, accompanied by a relaxed and present environment, can help strengthen and build close bonds - for both current and new relationships.

A golf event gives your company both a strong and different platform, where you can get to know your customers, as well as build a strong personal connection to each one.

Leave all practicalities to us and spend your time being present to your guests - from arrival until departure.

GREAT NORTHERN

SOCIAL GOLF DAY

Are you ready to create unique experiences for your employees or close relationships?

At Great Northern, you have the opportunity to arrange a full day with golf at the center - a challenging, educational and not least entertaining day in unique surroundings. Suitable for the established golfer, as well as those who have never tried their hand at the sport before. Here, everyone is welcome and we tailor the event to both your participants and wishes.

Let Great Northern form the framework for a very special experience. An experience where networking and relationships between colleagues and / or customers are at the center.

See how one day on the golf course can help strengthen the working relationships within your company and create a fun and exclusive memory at one of Europe's most recognized golf destinations.

RYDER CUP

Are you ready for a new and very special experience?
- experience the world's largest golf tournament, the Ryder Cup, on your own body.

This format allows you to create your own Ryder Cup tournament. You decide whether the teams should consist of customers and guests, or perhaps you have another company that is ready to make a completely unique event
- where you compete fire against fire.

Who will have the right to taunt for years to come?
This is a tradition that can be repeated for many years to come. Let this special experience form the backbone for unforgettable memories.
